

PROJECT PLANNING AT IT'S BEST

LBJ Student Center
Texas State University-
San Marcos

601 University Drive
San Marcos, TX 78666

Date: Friday March 28, 2008
Time: 1:00 To 4:45p.m.

Systematic Planning is scheduled to become for this century what scientific management was to the century just past.

The secrets of Planning By Design are proving surprisingly beneficial as planners now do what is conventionally thought insoluble.

A half-day "thinkshop" sponsored by
The Institute for High Performance Planners and
The Ingram School of Engineering
Texas State University-San Marcos

Advance Registration Required.
Fee: $100.00
($50.00 for IHPP members and Texas State University students/staff)

The problem with Planning is you have to think.

The problem with Systematic Planning is you have to think in an orderly way.

The problem with Planning By Design is you have to pre-design the orderly way for each project's subject area.
